

Piracy in the Caribbean reached its peak by the early 1800's. Spain, France, and England competed for the bounty of natural resources in the New World. It was from the Yucatan that the Spanish ships freighted massive amounts of gold back to Europe. Buccaneers and Pirates thrived from the treasures stolen from Spanish merchant ships. Isla Mujeres was a favorite port for some famous Pirates including Jean Lafitte and Henry Morgan. The home of one Pirate, Fermin Mundaca, can still be found on the island.

Points of Interest

Not all tracks are specific to a location

- | | |
|------------------------------|---------------------------|
| 01 Introduction | 08 Lighthouse |
| 02 Pirate Grave | 09 Maya Ruin |
| 03 Pirate Superstition | 10 Caste War Retreat |
| 04 The Descent of the Virgin | 11 Statue of Diver |
| 05 Jean LaFitte | 12 Sea Turtles |
| 06 Treasure Fleets | 13 Buried treasure |
| 07 Pirate Attacks | 14 Pirate Mundaca's House |

