

Kirlian photo of the author's right middle finger at rest (nice and even)

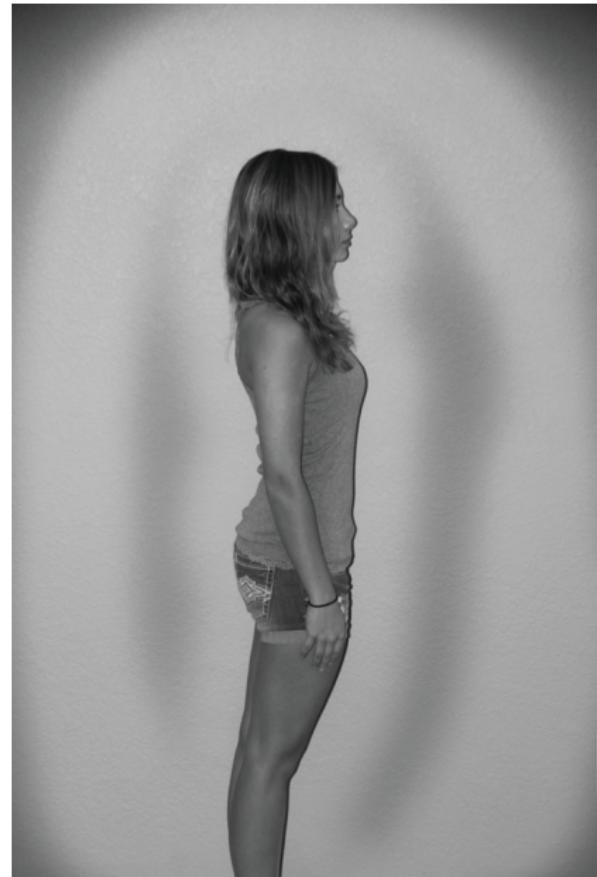

Same finger during negative thoughts (note how it is broken up)

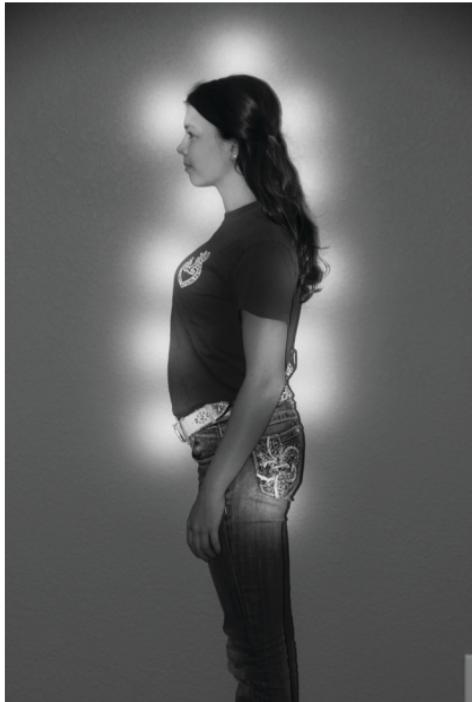

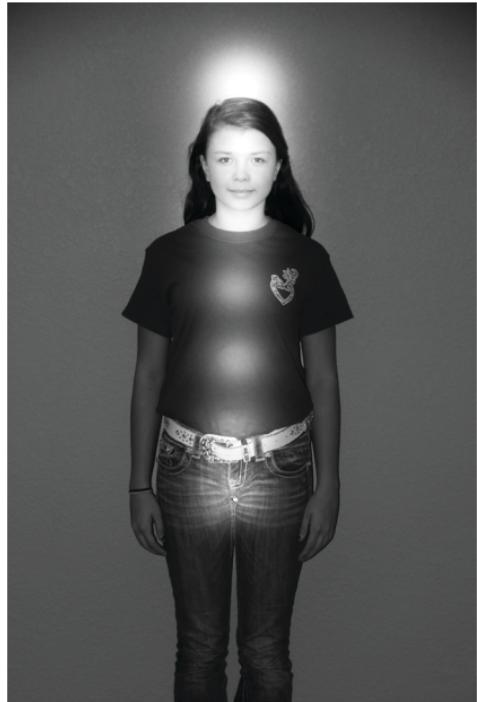

Same finger during healing (note the size and intensity)

According to Chinese philosophy, everything is comprised of opposites: male–female, hot–cold, mountain–valley, fire–water, and so forth. There is always a little bit of one in the other. However, one cannot overtake the other—that would mean the end of them both, or death.

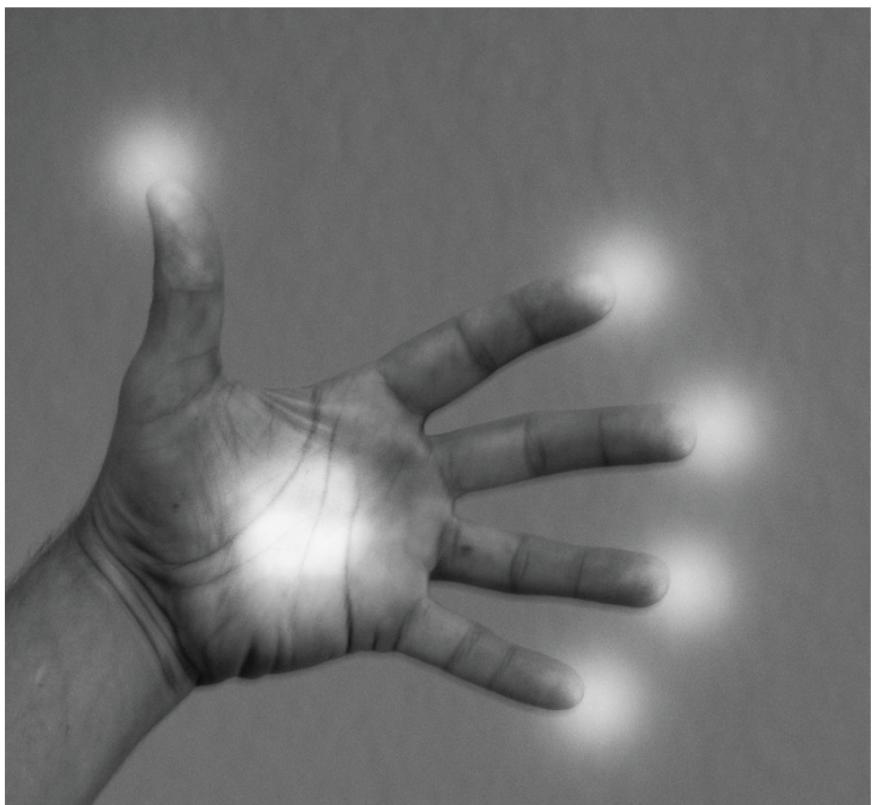

Healthy energy field

Main chakras

Secondary chakras of the hand

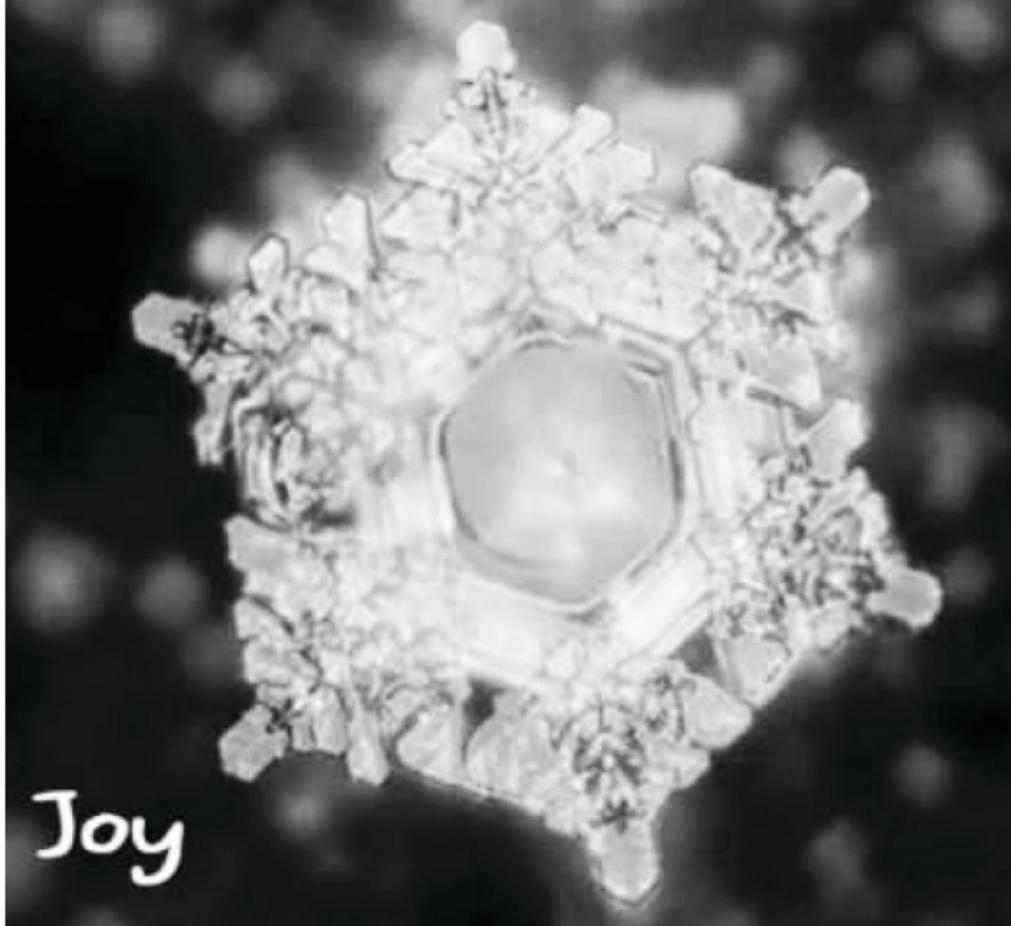

Aura indicating lung imbalance

Aura indicating excess of energy around head

Hate (courtesy of Masaru Emoto)

Joy (courtesy of Masaru Emoto)

Author with Zdenko Domancic in 2006

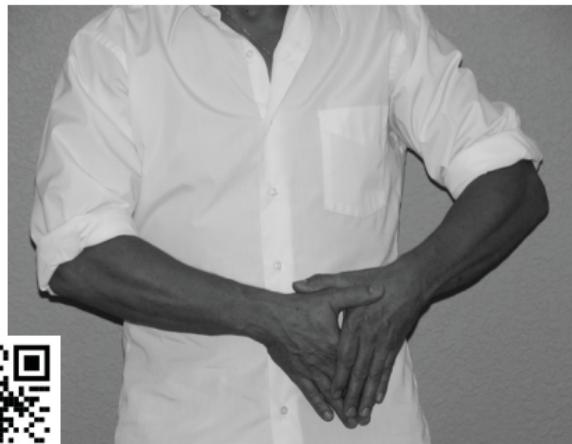

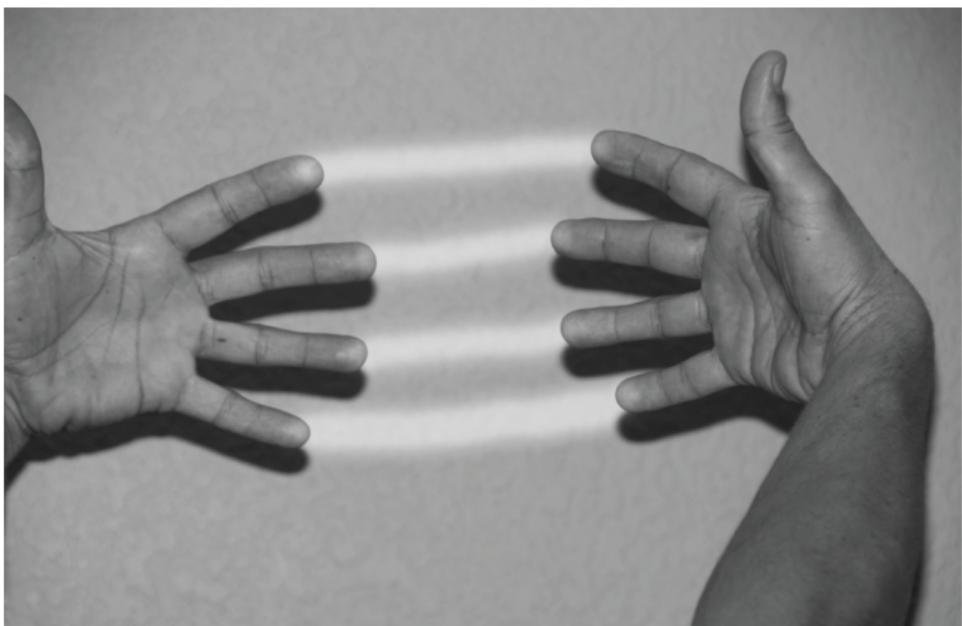

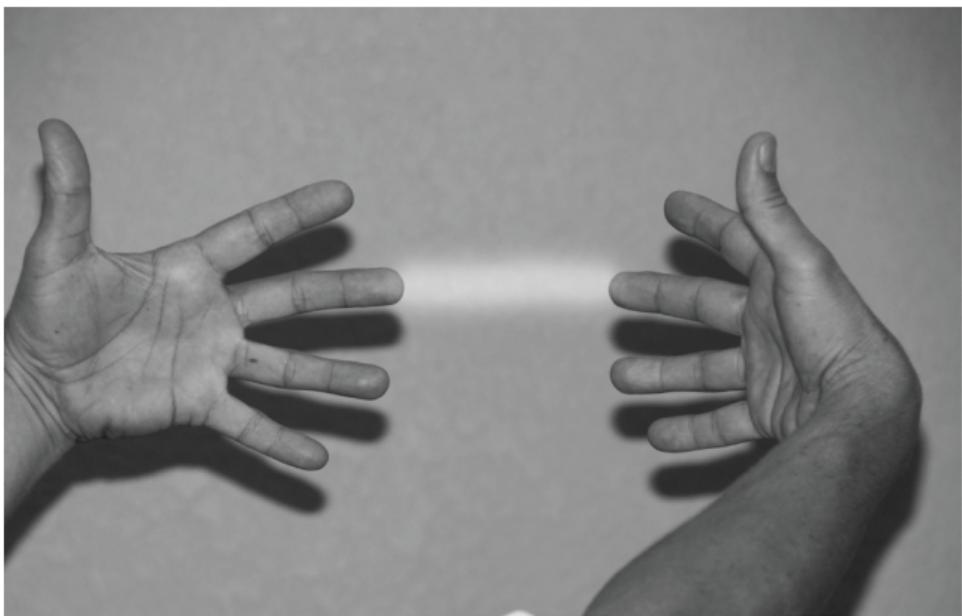

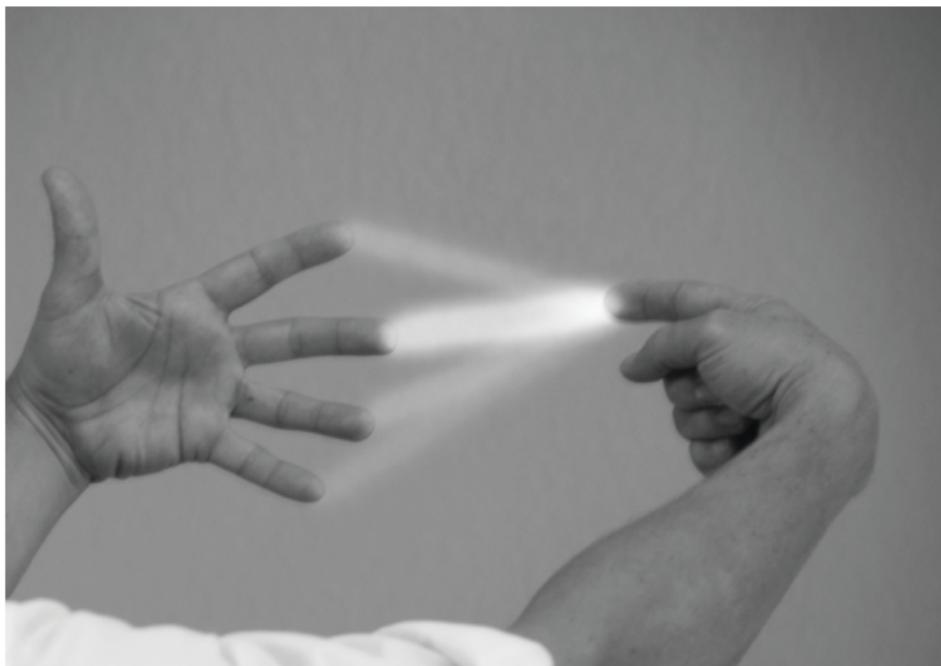

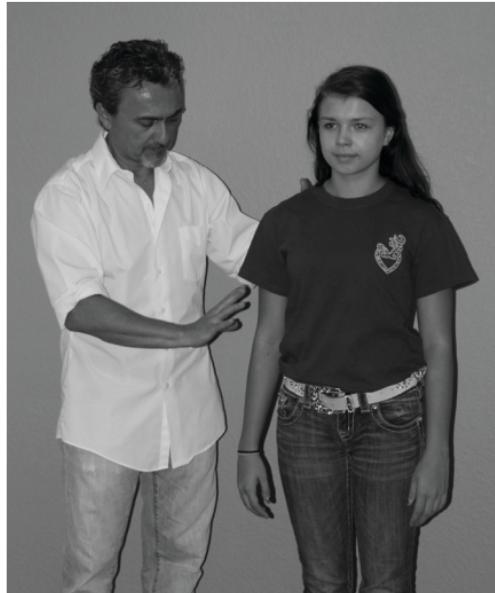

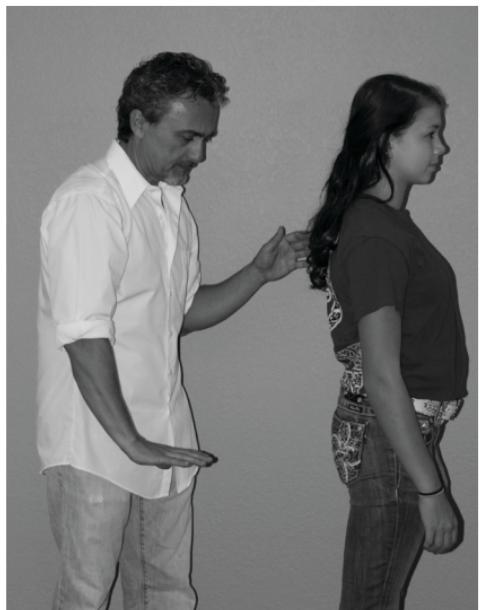

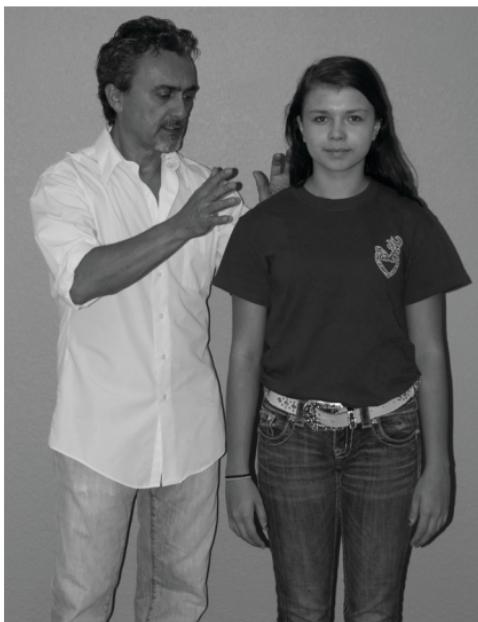

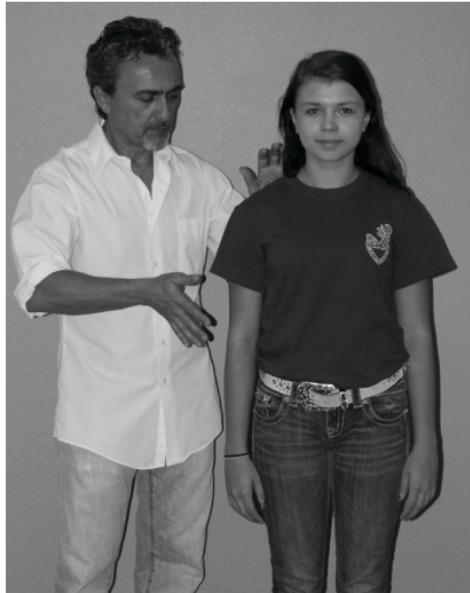

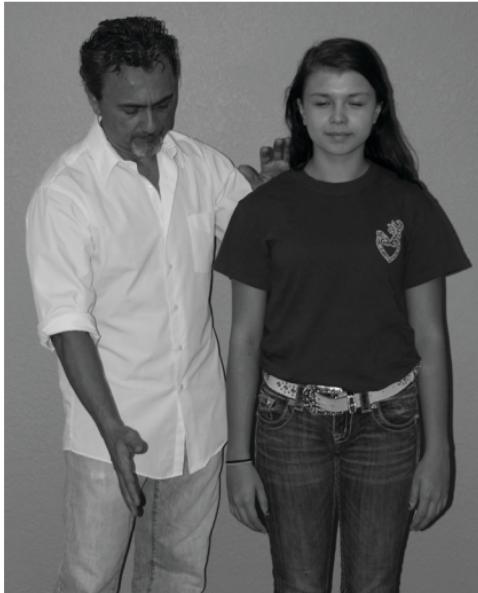

Take away energy: move from medial to lateral

Take away energy: move from superior to inferior

Take away energy: pull away from subject at 90 degree angle

Add energy: move from lateral to medial, from inferior to superior (clockwise motion)

Add energy: push toward subject at 90-degree angle

Balancing energy: crossing movements

The tap

Follow this by “playing the piano” with tight fingers shaking as quickly as possible above (or toward) the toes. Continue for thirty seconds. This move may induce intense sensations in the form of tingling in the feet, legs, or even the spine of your subject.

Last, hold the hands in the same area above (or toward) the toes with slight tension for around thirty seconds as well. This will also induce the sensation of heat.

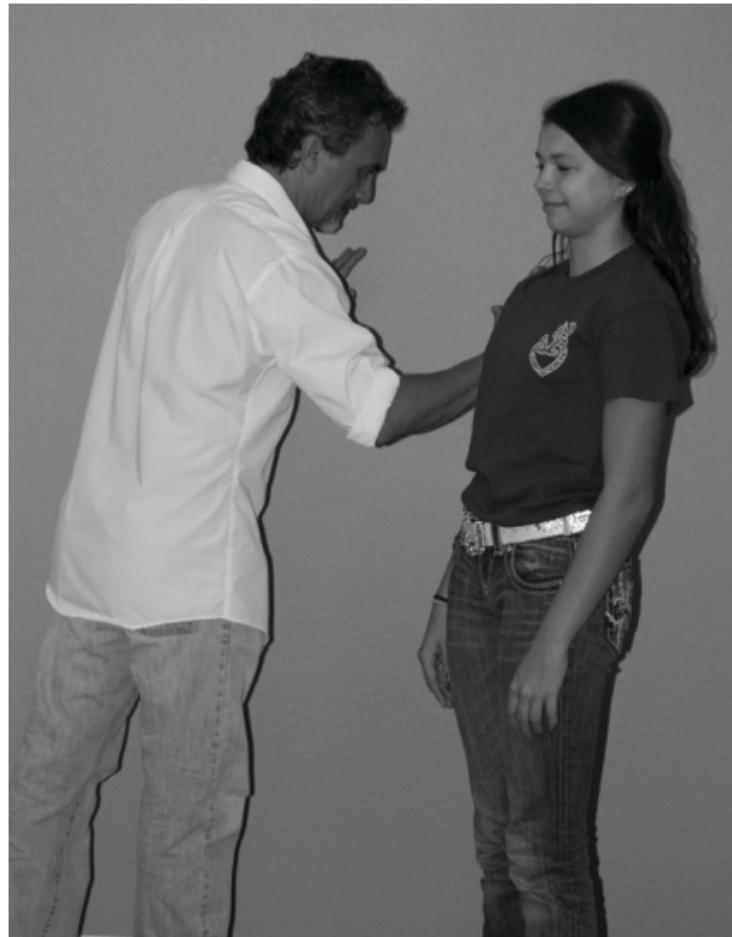

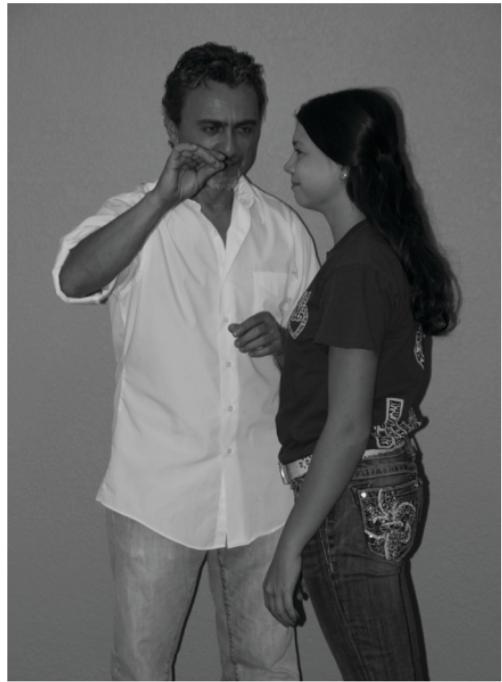

Group energy healing

Quick treatment for back pain

Treating multiple sclerosis (MS)

Quick treatment for high blood pressure

Quick treatment for low
blood pressure

Insomnia treatment for children

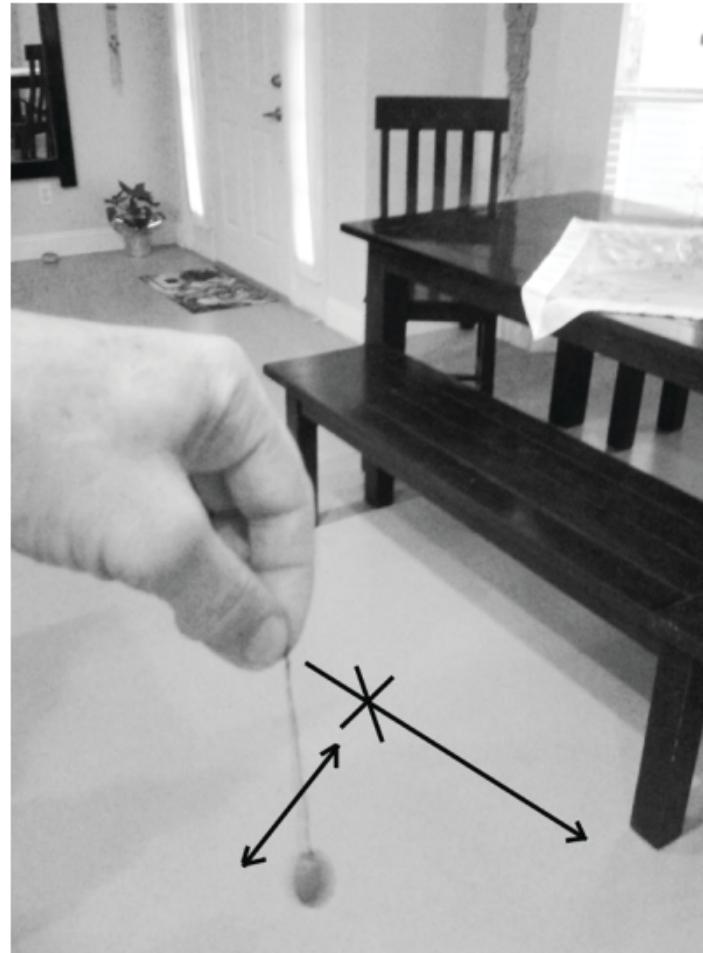

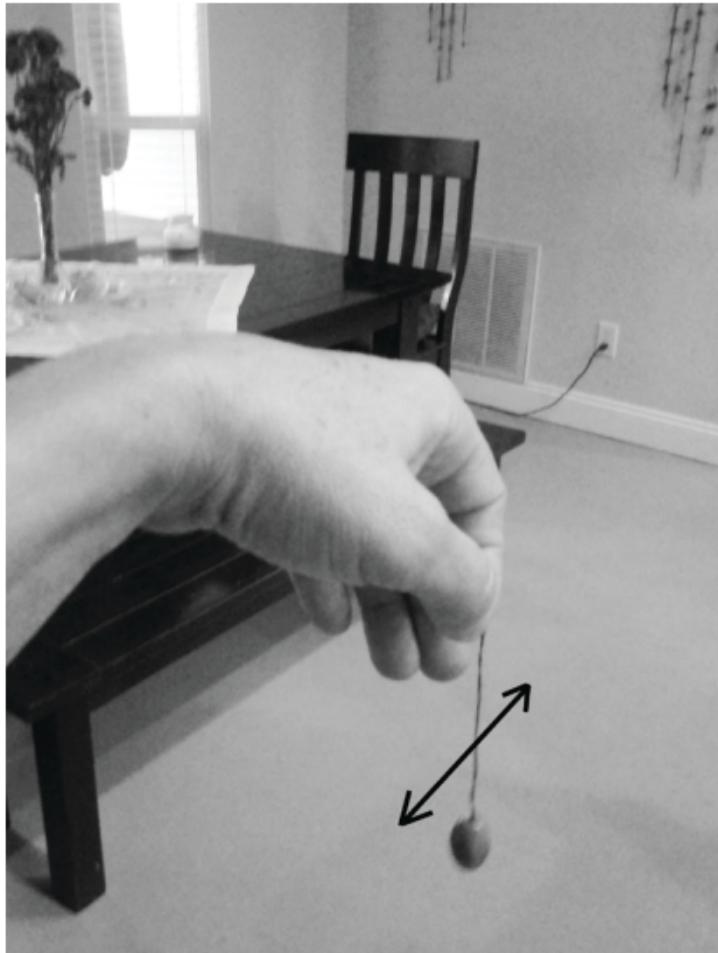

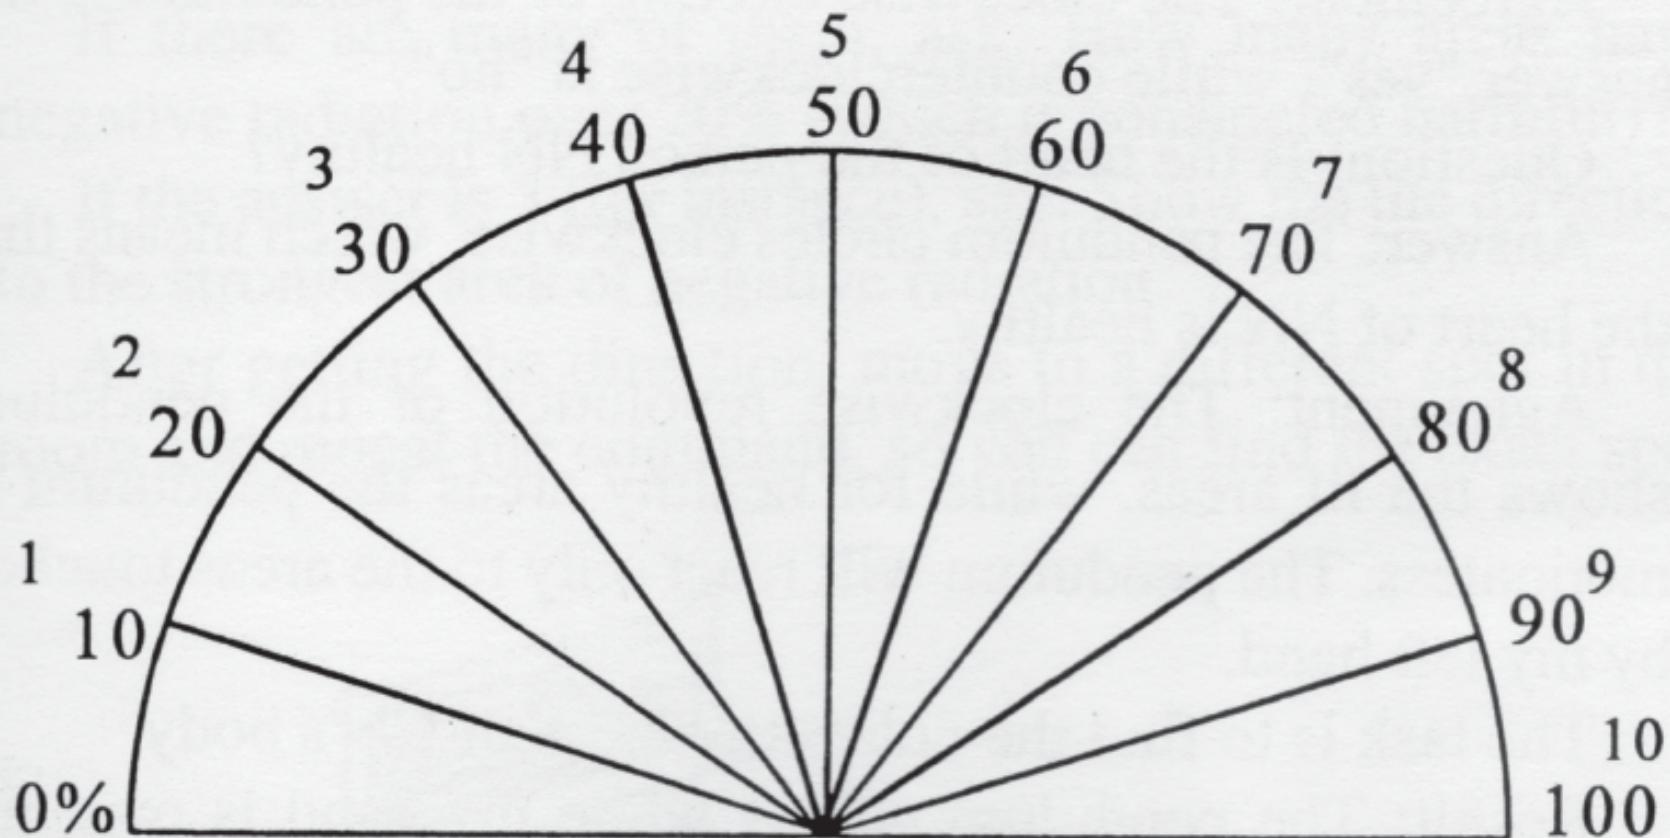

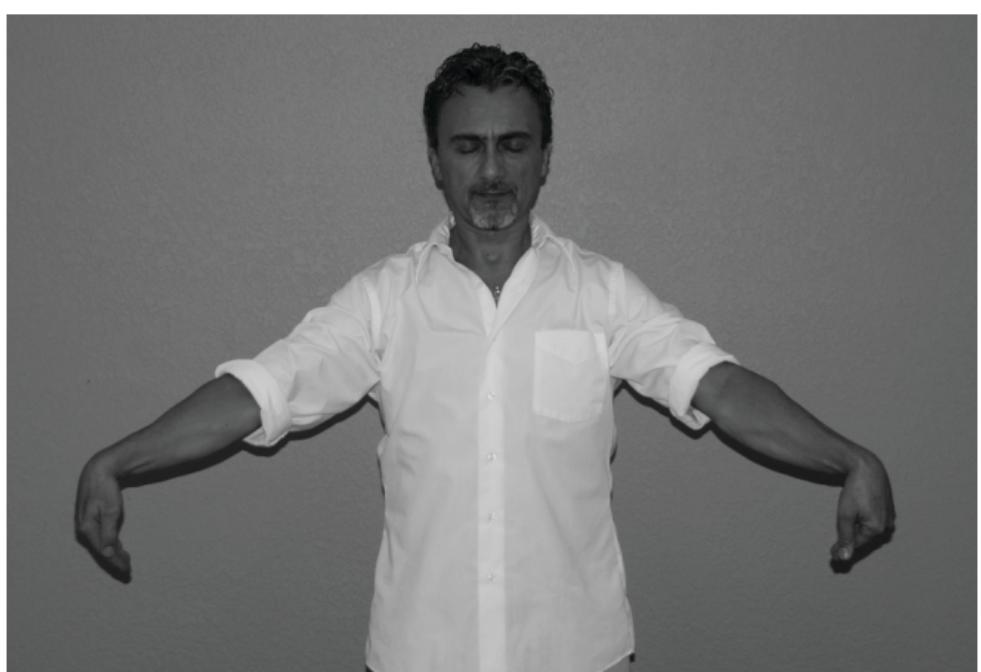

Hamstring stretch

Quad stretch