Your audio guide:

Thanks very much for choosing this mp3cityguides guide to Dublin. If you've already done any of our other walks, you'll know how it works but if not, I'll tell you now.

As you've probably already noticed, each of these sections of the walk that you've downloaded on to your machine has a name - this first one is 'Dublin City Gallery/Dublin Writers' Museum/Children of Lir Monument'. Just consider each of these walks as individual tracks on an 'album' which is the complete tour of Dublin. You'll hear directions about where to go next at the end of each section but the route and the stopping points are also marked on your map which is on page four of this Printed Guide.

When you get to a stopping point find somewhere to stand or sit which is out of the way of people and traffic and then play the relevant section of the walk.

The map has been especially produced to help you find your way while you're listening to the audio guide which means that it's not drawn exactly to scale.

Top tip: when you print out this Printed Guide or, at least, the map, set your printer to high quality or fine print so that the map is as clear as possible and easy to read.

Please take care when you're using the audio guide: Dublin is a relatively safe city but do keep an eye out for pick pockets and watch out when you're crossing the road.

When we arrive at a monument, church or a museum, after I've described it you might want to go in or you might want to buy a ticket for later if it looks crowded. Or you might just want to carry on and come back and visit it afterwards now that you know where it is.

Top tip: Play a few sections of the tour on your mp3 player or iPod before you go just to check that they've downloaded OK.

Your printed guide:

This printed guide complements your audio guide. We know that exploring a city can take more than one visit - and possibly even a life time so we've pared our guide down to what we think are the essential things to see and do. They're included in section four, the Hit List.

We've done our best to get it right and, because we're an Internet based guide rather than a conventional guidebook, we can update our information very quickly.

That said, all kinds of places inevitably change their opening times at short notice so please accept our apologies if you arrive somewhere and, despite what we've said, you find it's shut. As with your Audio Guide, if you find that a museum, gallery, church, bar or restaurant is not as we've described it then please do let us know by contacting us at

3.0 – GETTING AROUND

From Dublin International Airport airport:

By taxi: This is the quickest option. There is a taxi rank outside the Arrivals concourse. A journey to the city centre should cost approximately EURO25 and takes about 30 minutes to an hour depending on Dublin's usually busy traffic. For more information: Tel: +353 1 8141111 or visit www.dublinairportauthority.com

By Bus: There are several Dublin bus services operating from directly outside the terminal building. Bus service numbers 41/16a take about 45 minutes to reach the city centre.

Airlink number 747 is the Airport Express service which goes to the central bus station, Busras stopping at O'Connell Street and Parnell Square. Fare is EURO 6 available from the bus office in O'Connell Street or, if you have the correct money, on the bus. The Airlink journey takes approximately 30-45 minutes. For more information: Tel: +353 1 8734222 or visit www.dublinbus.ie

Aircoach, a private operator, runs a service between Dublin Airport and Ballsbridge, via the city centre, servicing many hotels and B&Bs. The service leaves the airport every 15 minutes between 5am and midnight, and every hour from midnight to 5am. For more information: Tel: +353 1 844 7118 or visit www.aircoach.ie

Getting around:

Bus Dublin's bus service is reasonably efficient, cheap and safe. Buses run from around 6am to 11.30pm when the Nitelink service takes over.

On most buses you pay the driver. Fares range from EURO1.05 to around EURO2. You must give the exact money. To get change, get a receipt from the driver and present it plus your ticket at the Dublin bus office at 59 O'Connell Street.

The easiest and probably the cheapest option is the Rambler Ticket which offers unlimited travel on all bus routes including Airlink but excluding Nitelink for one day (EURO 7.60), three days (EURO 16.50) and 10 days (EURO 27.50). You can buy them at the Dublin Tourism office at the airport or in post offices, hotels and supermarkets in town. For more information visit www.buseireann.ie

Taxi Dublin's taxis are reasonably cheap and plentiful. They come in all shapes and size but have the licence number on top. Most can be hailed in the street but there are ranks outside the Bank of Ireland and the Gresham Hotel in O'Connell Street amongst other places. Prices start at around EURO8 for a short distance in town. You can also book on T: + 353 (0)1 872 7272.

As always, check that the meter is running when you set off.

The DublinPass offers free transport from the airport, free entry to over 30 attractions venues and discounts at many more. A day pass costs EURO35 for adults and EURO19 for children with passes available for two, three and six days.

It is available at the Dublin Tourism Centre, Suffolk Street, the Arrivals Hall, Dublin International Airport and at the tourist office at 14 Upper O'Connell Street. For more information or to buy online visit: www.dublinpass.ie
